

Over the course of one momentous day, two women who have built their lives around the same man find themselves moving toward an inevitable reckoning.

“The Half Wives is a profoundly hypnotic and mesmerizing work. The characters do not capture you as much as claim you, as the writing—languid, heartbreaking, and hopeful—pulls you deep into their world. The backdrop of Old San Francisco comes gloriously alive, as though the mist of the city itself rose from every page.”

—KATHY HEPINSTALL, author of Blue Asylum

“Stacia Pelletier’s The Half Wives is set in the past, but it is a story for any time: a poignant, sometimes heart-rending, beautifully crafted, always gripping tale of loss and love, and the human need to try to set things right. A great read.”

—KEVIN BAKER, author of The Big Crowd

STACIA PELLETIER is the author of Accidents of Providence, which was short-listed for the Townsend Prize in Fiction, and the forthcoming The Half Wives. She earned graduate degrees in religion and historical theology from Emory University in Atlanta. A two-time fellow of the Hambidge Center, located in the mountains of North Georgia, she currently lives in Decatur, Georgia, and works at Emory University’s School of Medicine. Author photograph © Mark Pelletier Photography

Available April 4 wherever books and e-books are sold.

For media inquiries, please contact:

Stephanie Kim
Houghton Mifflin Harcourt
Stephanie.Kim@hnhco.com
212-420-5878

